

The channel's bespoke audio recording partner...

The zero-touch way to deliver bespoke caller experiences, that are scripted by leading AI engines and recorded by your customers' choice of 300+ professional voice artists or AI voices, all as part of your UC solution.

A phone system is much more than a call routing technology - for most businesses it's a critical customer touch point. Callers to SMEs typically spend 20% of call time on hold. As the provider of their telephony infrastructure, you can determine, and monetise, the way your customers utilise this time.

Using powerful AI integrations, PromptVoice writes bespoke scripts and pairs them with tailored voices and music choices. Customers schedule when compilations should play, and self-serve ongoing audio updates. This leads to greatly enhanced caller experiences, more marketing opportunities, and new, monthly recurring revenue streams for you.

Our unique freemium model enables you to give every customer free access to basic functionality and take advantage of automated in-app emails, and smart upgrade paths, which encourage users to upgrade to paid subscriptions, growing your margin.

How it works

Your customers simply enter their web address into your portal, from which AI deduces their company details, industry, products, opening hours and tone of voice. Using this information, PromptVoice AI writes bespoke scripts, which users can edit, and pairs them with recommended AI voices and music choices to create fully produced compilations. Within just a few minutes, bespoke compilations will be recorded, mixed and playing live, creating fantastic caller experiences, and securing additional monthly recurring revenue.
